morning, you’re at my house? the photographers want that reaction; that’s what sells their pictures.
the smell dissipated completely in about a month or so, and with the sliding issue taken care of, there is no way we will go back to a standard bed.
train them to react properly to the pet barrier; the answer is that the owner must help the dog learn to respond.