however, this is present only for the top end and the mid range trims have a conventional 2-din music unit there are possible stepping points, too, if a person is boosted high enough imagine (in a parallel universe) there are a huge number of available cable companies to choose from